

COLUMBIA, S. C.

Tuesday Morning, October 3, 1871.

Our City Affairs.

As our readers have observed, the allegations made in this journal, with respect to the City Council and their operations, has not been disputed. It now remains for the whole transaction to be thoroughly investigated and exposed. Let the citizens of Columbia look to the welfare of the city. A ring has fastened upon the city. Let it be broken. The Board of Trade have very properly taken the matter up. Let their investigations be thorough and searching. The eyes of all good citizens, without respect to party, are upon this investigation. Let this entire transaction be exposed. Justice demands it, and the interests of Columbia require it.

It ought not to surprise any one to learn that the friends of Napoleon III are secretly organizing and plotting in Paris to restore him to the throne of France. No one supposed that he would remain a private citizen at Chiselhurst, or that his friends would be idle in his behalf. So long as there was one chance left to again proclaim him Emperor. His whole life was full of trick and plot; in fact, he seldom took a direct path to any end, preferring rather to reach it by devious courses. If he can mount the throne again he will, the only question being, has he the power to do it? All present circumstances would be favorable to the attempt, were he quite certain of the people. Just now, the people of France are an authority, which is more than can be said of that hybrid growth called a government. The disarmament of the National Guard is in his favor, for the Guard hated Napoleon and would fight against his restoration to power. It is doubtful if the regular army would support him were he again to place himself at its head. It is well known that many of the leading generals of France are still ardent supporters of the Empire, and that they would be able to control the army in great degree. The strength of the republic appears to be exactly nothing; the Assembly is arrayed against the Chief Executive, and the Chief Executive against the Assembly, and the people have little confidence in either. It is this condition of affairs which gives the friends of Napoleon III a chance to plot, and even a chance to plot successfully.

If Connecticut does not speedily make a marked improvement upon her wooden nutmegs, it is to be feared that the inventive genius of California will carry that State ahead of her. At a recent election for assessor in San Francisco, the Radicals made a good many votes by surreptitiously applying nitrate of silver to the name of the opposing candidate. As the application produced no immediate effect on the ballots, they were deposited in the box without suspicion on the part of the voters. But when the vote came to be counted the chemical action of the nitrate of silver had performed its mission and the name had disappeared from the ballots. A man who would be guilty of such conduct as that couldn't be trusted with a five dollar bill a hundred yards from home by his own cherished mother-in-law.

DECLINE OF THE FEVER.—The number of certificates of death from yellow fever, received and reported by Dr. Leiby, the city registrar, during the week ending at noon on Saturday last, is 29, viz: Sunday's report 5, Monday's report 5, Tuesday's report 5, Wednesday's report 5, Thursday's report 3, Friday's report 3, and Saturday's report 3. But, according to the dates given us, only 20 of these deaths occurred during the current week, viz: Sunday 2, Monday 5, Tuesday 5, Wednesday 3, and Thursday 5. The 5 deaths reported on Sunday, September 24, as well as 3 of the 5 deaths reported on Monday, and 1 of the 5 deaths reported on Tuesday, (9 in all), took place in the week ending on Saturday, September 24, and were included in the 30 deaths, for that week, reported officially by the registrar. Yesterday no deaths were reported, so that the current week begins well.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Alfred, a colored man in the employ of Mr. Rivers Harley, at Barnwell village, was seriously if not fatally injured, on Thursday morning, by the falling of a tree. It seems that he hit his head near the tree, and as it started to fall he made an effort to save his mules, just reaching them in time to be crushed by it. Dr. Duncan was promptly called in, and upon examination found both thighs fractured, besides sustaining severe internal injuries.

Any party which now allies itself with corrupt men, or a corrupt policy, is doomed.—New York Times.
Then, why do you urge people to join the Republican party?
Ben. Butler spent $50,000 to get the nomination of Governor from the Republican Convention, which met at Worcester, on the 27th ult., and then got "bottled up" for his pains.

A Query.—How Much More?
If it takes $250,000 worth of bonds of the city of Columbia to secure $75,000, what amount of bonds will have to be issued to complete the work now contracted for by City Council—City Hall contract $138,000, market $18,616. Now there is extra work. How much? These buildings have to be lighted. Chandeliers, &c., have to be provided. How much for these? Then City Hall has to be furnished—carpets, desks, tables, chairs, spittoons, &c., to be supplied. How much for these? Again there are concert rooms, seats, curtains, scenery, &c. How much for these items? Another State House furnishing job, certainly, looms up.

FIENDISH OUTRAGES BY NEGROES.—A report from Greenbrier County, West Virginia, gives the details of a most diabolical outrage which occurred in the township of Palestine. It seems that a man in the employ of Mr. George V. Perry had a difficulty with Mr. Lewis F. Watts, in which Watts was whipped. Watts then employed two negroes and a white man to go to Perry's at night time for the purpose of beating his antagonist. The white man remained in the road and the negroes knocked at the door and were admitted by Mr. Perry. The man they were after stepped behind the door as it was opened, and the negroes, not seeing him in the room, went up stairs in search of him. As soon as they started up stairs he sprang out and ran to the railroad for assistance. The negroes, after searching in vain for him up stairs, came down and fell upon Mr. Perry and his young son and beat them fearfully. They then seized Mrs. Perry, threw her on the bed and tied her by the hair to the bed, after which they brutally outraged her person. The fiends then attempted to outrage a little girl only twelve years of age, doing her the most serious injury in their hellish efforts. Mrs. Perry, in her struggles to escape, had nearly all her hair pulled from her head by the roots, but she finally succeeded and fled to a neighbor's in her night clothes for protection. The man who had gone for assistance returned with others and captured the offenders. They then went to Watts' and arrested him and his son, and kept them secure until next day. The news spread rapidly, and the people flocked in with guns, determined on lynching all the guilty parties. These, however, were secured in a strongly built house, so that they were not reached, although desperate efforts were made. They were tried and sent to the Monroe Jail, where they remain securely guarded.

A JAIL DELIVERY AT BENNETTSVILLE.—The Times says: "All the prisoners confined in our jail made their escape last Thursday morning. Sheriff Easterlin went up into the jail for the purpose of releasing one of the prisoners whose time of confinement had expired. As he entered the door leading into the passage, one of the prisoners threw him violently against the iron bar fastening the door and stunned him. While he was in this condition, John R. McQuage, confined for the killing of Robert J. Breeden, at Clito, last July, York McCall, imprisoned for larceny, and a boy named David, passed out. The sheriff's son met the last named on the steps and stopped him, but the other two made good their escape. On examining the jail, the sheriff discovered that during the night the lock on the cell in which the prisoners were confined had been broken by means of an iron bar which they had procured in some way. Knowing that he would enter the jail early in the morning for the purpose of releasing one of their number, they gathered in the passage and prepared for him, with the above result. Owing to the beautiful jury law that we now have, there was no court held for Marlboro at the regular time in September, and therefore these men could not be tried. They tried themselves, and agreed upon a verdict of 'not guilty,' and have left for parts unknown."

We regret to announce the death, from chronic dysentery, at the residence of Mr. M. Pollitzer, of Mr. Chas. S. Kuh, a native of Austria, aged sixty years. Mr. Kuh had been ill for a long time, and all medical efforts to ameliorate his condition were useless. He was a representative to the State Legislature from Beaufort County, having been re-elected for a second term.—Beaufort Republican.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.—It is reported that Eugene, the youngest son of Baron Rothschild, will visit this city as soon as the fever shall have entirely departed, for the purpose of conferring with those Israelites here who may wish to remove to Jerusalem, under the plan looking to the selection of that site as a home of the race generally.

Rev. T. W. Lewis, a Presiding Elder of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and pastor of the Centenary (colored) Church, in Wentworth street, Charleston, died of the prevailing fever, on the 30th ult. The deceased was a Northern man, and came here soon after the war.

It is said that the name of only one revolutionary soldier remains on the pension list.—D. F. Bateman, Catawba County, N. Y., aged 109 years. There is another yet living, in Newbern, North Carolina, over 100 years old, but his name was stricken from the list during the so-called rebellion.

A GOSSIPING OLD RICHMOND BARBER ON THINGS OF THE PAST.—Lomax Smith, a barber in the Exchange Hotel, Richmond, is a relic of the palmy days of Virginia. A writer in the Petersburg Progress sat in the old gentleman's chair, to whom Smith gossiped about old times: "A nice collection of gentlemen, sir," said Lomax, "this convention at Assembly Hall; many very genteel and able persons there, sir. It does me good to see again in Virginia the best people coming forward to take part in politics. And yet, sir, there are some great men here, too—scattered about among the hundreds I don't know; but—excuse me, sir, turn your face a little to the left—you can't remember the convention of '29, can you? Too young! Yes, yes! Well, then was Mr. James Madison, and that other gentleman, very smart, but rather flighty, Mr. Randolph, of Roanoke, and more than I can tell you. You have got big men here to-day, but, bless my soul, sir, they were all giants then; there wasn't a humble individual here. Giants, sir, giants, every one."

And Lomax re-strapped his razor, turned on his head gently and began again: "And how did they come here, sir? Omnibuses, hucks? Not they! Private carriages, private servants, and each had a square mahogany box, with silver mountings. In this were four square bottles, trimmed with vines and leaves of gold; one held old pine-apple rum, one brandy and honey—peach and honey, sir; one sherry and one Madeira. No whiskey and no drinking at bars. The case was in every delegate's room, with the key put away, but," said Lomax thoughtfully and suggestively drew his razor through the palm of an honest hand, "their constituents knew where the key was, sir. Yes, sir! And shaving them was fifty cents. No change! Those were days! Why, nothing now is as good as it was, and I can tell the reason. Ever since 1850, when they got up the universal suffrage, things have been going down, down, down. I never used to shave anybody that was nobody, and now I hardly ever shave anybody that is anybody. Yes, sir, that 1850 suffrage commenced the whole thing, and now nothing is like it used to be. Why, sausage, sir, sausage! The old Virginia luxury! What is it now? It used to be made out of the choicest part of the hog, and now you're lucky if it's a hog at all; and when it is, there is nothing but gristle and lean. Lomax drew a long sigh, we gently rose, and "declining the change," left the premises with the conviction that Lomax was more than half right.

FIVE STORES, A HOTEL AND TWO NEWSPAPER OFFICES BURNED.—At 3 o'clock, yesterday morning, says the Columbus (Ga.) S. M., of the 29th ult., a destructive fire occurred in Talbotton, sweeping away the entire block East of the court house.

Simon Grant, the colored man who was found in such a terrible condition on James Island, a few days ago, died on Saturday.

Mrs. A. McCormick
WILL be prepared to open her handsome and well selected stock of MILLINERY AND FANCY ARTICLES ON FRIDAY, the 6th inst.

She has just returned from New York, where she spared no pains in the selection of her stock, hoping thereby to be able to please each and every one who may favor her with a call. Her stock consists of Bonnets, Hats and Caps, of the latest and most fashionable styles. Handsome Flouncers and Featherers in endless variety. Corsets of the very best make. Furs of the latest styles, at remarkably low prices. Also, a good supply of those handsome ready-made suits, all of which she offers at very low prices.

Fish.
WE are sound on the FISH question. New MACKEREL—Boston inspection—in kits, half barrels and barrels. Also, "Moss Mackerel." These are strange Fish—having neither heads nor tails. Also, Codfish, Tongues and Sounds, highly recommended by the faculty. For sale by GEO. SYMMERS.

It is stated that in New York city, recently, a quantity of human hair, silky, silver gray, and thirty inches long, was sold for $35 an ounce—nearly twice as much as gold will bring. One house in that city has imported 6,000 pounds of hair since January, paying for it $100,000 in gold. They have at work on it 100 girls, who earn from twelve to eighteen dollars a week; and yet they find the demand greater than the supply. Hair has advanced twenty-five per cent. in market value, and is likely to go up twenty-five per cent. more.

At last, the pestiferous house-flies are to meet the fate they deserve. Titusville, Pa., has invented a reliable sort of fly-paper. This fly-paper is covered with nitro-glycerine, glue and molasses. The flies, attracted by the molasses, alight, and are stuck fast by the glue. Should any get away, they proceed to rub their legs together in ecstasy, when the friction of their own shins causes the nitro-glycerine adhering to their feet and limbs to explode, blowing them to atoms.

After much consideration of the question of the most fitting statue to crown the top of the reconstructed Vendome Column, M. Thiers has very logically concluded that Napoleon I, in his gray overcoat and cock-d-til, shall be replaced there. This is a proper solution of the matter, since the Vendome Column without the first Emperor would be a paradox.

Divers who go under the sea, say that sharks never go to the bottom, but play around near the surface, but they frequently see small fishes all around them while on the bottom. They insert their noses into all the crevices of the armor, and particularly show a curiosity to examine the glass eyes, and are sometimes very troublesome.

TAKING LIBERTIES.—In announcing his intention to submit to the action of the Massachusetts Republican Convention, General Butler said: "I feel myself bound by it as a man of honor." This is a "new departure," and it appears to be that this notorious gentleman has taken a liberty with honor which is the most unwarrantable act of his life.

An Irishman, noticing a lady pass down the street, espied two strips depending from under her mantle. Not knowing that these were styled sashes, and were hanging in their right place, he exclaimed: "An' faith, ma'am, yer gulluses are loose!"

The Paris Commune, during their short reign, burned the guillotine; but Hendrecht, the chief executioner for Paris, has been commissioned to make another—this time of iron.

Mr. J. N. Coon has been appointed by Governor Scott a beneficiary in the South Carolina University.

A new law firm has been organized—Major C. D. Melton—a veteran—and his son-in-law, Mr. W. A. Clark. See card in another column.

Our merchants, and others wishing to prepare for the fall business, will please take notice that the PHENIX office is supplied with all necessary material for as handsome cards, bill heads, posters, circulars, and other printing that may be desired, as any office in the city. Give us a call and test our work.

The camp meeting at Trenholm's Grove, (or Hampton's, as it is more commonly known,) was an immense affair. Everything passed off pleasantly—we had almost said quietly. Fully 5,000 persons—mostly colored—were on the ground Sunday.

The Exchange House inaugurates the oyster season to day, by an installment of "deep-waters." October has an r, so don't be afraid.

The drawings of the Charleston Charitable Association were inaugurated in this city, yesterday, at the office on Main street, near Lady. A goodly crowd was in attendance, and although many were disappointed, still several substantial prizes were obtained.

The Rural Carolinian, for October, is before us, and is an excellent number. It is the only agricultural work in the State. The subscription price is $2 per annum. Walker, Evans & Cogswell and D. Wyatt Aiken are the publishers. The Rural and the WEEKLY GLEANER are furnished at $4.

Old John Robinson's circus and menagerie is coming. The two shows, we understand, are under separate pavilions, so that those who wish to see only the animals can do so without witnessing the circus performances.

J. H. Rivers and C. D. Hayne have been appointed Notaries Public for Aiken County.

The gentlemen who signed their names to a list for the purpose of forming a chess club, will please meet this (Tuesday) afternoon, October 3, at 5 o'clock, in the rear room of the Citizens' Savings Bank, for the purpose of organizing the club.

The thermometer ranged as follows yesterday at the Pollock House: 7 A. M., 55; 12 M., 64; 2 P. M., 68; 7 P. M., 68.

COURT.—The fall term of the Court of General Sessions commenced yesterday, Judge Melton presiding. Mr. Arthur Grimball was appointed stenographer to the Court, and took the oath required.

The grand jury drawn at the last term of the Court appeared and answered to their names—L. F. Hopson acting as foreman. The jury, after a short charge from the Judge, retired, and after the examination of the cases given to them by acting Solicitor Barnwell, made the following returns:

True bills as to Charles Davis, assault and battery with intent to kill; Christian Hussung, assault and battery; William H. Trezevant, Robert S. Trezevant and Benjamin James, assault and battery; Walter Bithel, grand larceny; Arthur Williams, assault with intent to commit a rape; Abraham Ruffin, grand larceny; Abraham Starling, grand larceny; and no bills as to Louis Alexander and others for assault and battery; James Jones, petit larceny.

W. R. Parker, Esq., was appointed foreman of Jury No. 1, and Green K. Williams of Jury No. 2.
Owing to the absence of several jurors, Commissioner J. P. Adams was ordered to draw fifteen additional jurors to attend the Court on Wednesday next.

ACCIDENTS—PROVIDENTIAL ESCAPES.—Yesterday morning, while our old fellow-citizen, John Agnew, Esq., was exercising one of his horses in a light sulky, the axle-tree broke, the wheel turned under, and the occupant was thrown out, the reins becoming twisted around his legs; fortunately, however, the shafts threw the horse to the ground, where he remained perfectly quiet, and Mr. A. was enabled to release himself—the only damage being some slight bruises.

In the afternoon, Mr. T. M. Pollock was kindly "airing" the proprietor of the PHENIX, when one of the bolts in the shafts slipped out, the vehicle was "slewed" round, and the owner thrown heavily to the ground. The animal, becoming frightened by the shafts striking his legs, started off, the off fore-wheel was smashed, and "ye local" brought up in the sand-bed near the store of Mr. E. Hope. Result in each case—a dilapidated vehicle.

COLUMBIA BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION.—This association held its first anniversary meeting last evening. The full reports laid before the association showed the prudence, care and economy with which its affairs have been managed. The election of officers resulted, as follows:

R. O'Neale, Jr., President, vice J. P. Thomas, who declined a re-election. Board of Directors—John McKenzie, John Fisher, G. A. Shields, W. C. Swaffield, G. L. Dial, John D. Caldwell. Secretary and Treasurer—A. G. Brenizer.

After the announcement of the vote for officers, the President made a few remarks and yielded the chair to the President elect, who, in becoming terms, expressed his acknowledgments to the association.

Upon motion of Mr. Dial, a vote of thanks was tendered to Colonel Thomas, for the able and courteous manner in which he had presided over the meetings of the association. The meeting then adjourned.

DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER stands unequalled for making light, healthy and nutritious rolls, biscuits, griddle cakes, &c. The ingredients used in the manufacture of this powder are not only chemically pure, but so proportioned that the results produced are the same each time. In this respect, it possesses superiority over all others in the market. Only two teaspoonsful are required for a quart of flour. For sale by grocers generally. Use Dooley's Yeast Powder only. Dooley & Brother, Proprietors, 69 New street, New York.

IMPORTANT TO BUILDERS AND CONTRACTORS.
We learn from our Charleston exchanges that Mr. P. P. Towle, the well-known manufacturer of Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., has established a depot at No. 20 Haymarket street, where he keeps constantly on hand not only all articles from his own manufactory, but also every variety of builders' hardware, French and American window glass, both plain and ornamental, sash materials, and, in short, everything necessary to finish handsomely a residence, a store, or a church.
